Participants will have an opportunity to choose from 8 different workshops, on topics such as food, energy, social justice, water, habitat loss, and many more. There will be more than 30 exhibitors with lots of fun activities: a photo booth, face painting, endangered animals. Our main goal with this Summit is to educate about climate change through the lenses of different issues. Now, more than ever it is critical that youth are involved and informed about sustainability initiatives.

Join us for a fun day of networking with youth from more than 50+ schools and organizations!
